

Belle Profiles

“belleGlass is about building partnerships between laboratory and practice, between practice and patient.

As an independent dental laboratory specializing in highly esthetic, anterior restorations, we always try to remain aware of material innovations. belleGlass HP dual cure is a new material that lives up to my exacting standards as a ceramist. I've found that belle is unique not only in being supported by extensive clinical testing, but in its working performance in my hands. It gives me a true esthetic option to share with my clients...and their patients.”
